

I hate all marketing people that have anything to do with telephones. It must be a crime to use my cell for anything I do not wish. Curtis John Farris